

As Tears Fall

There are times in silence I have been
When your kiss has gently touched my dream.
Your skin against my thighs,
Your breath lovingly caressing my eyes.
Time stops ... as I hold the moment ...
But too soon it departs,
As tears fall on this broken heart.

I did not know within my mind
Confusion and stress made me blind.
As life called forth for you to fly
All I could do inside was cry.
Time stops ... as I hold the moment ...
But too soon it departs,
As tears fall on this broken heart.

So driven, so determined to succeed,
You were unable to feel my need.
Guided by other views,
My pain and reason you never knew.
Time stops ... as I hold the moment ...
But too soon it departs,
As tears fall on this broken heart.
